

Credits and Incentives Pinpointer: International

Uncover a Treasure of Credits and Incentives Worldwide

As the costs of doing business globally increase, multinational corporations have become more selective in finding the best investment opportunities that will help them to maximize their growth and savings.

While many tax incentives are offered worldwide to spur regional economic growth, they're not always easy to uncover – especially at the local level. Practitioners are tasked with wading through information on government websites, navigating language issues, and finding a way to stay up to date on changing regulations – obstacles that can prevent companies from taking advantage of valuable tax saving opportunities.

Thomson Reuters Checkpoint Credits and Incentives Pinpointer: International helps global tax practitioners make the most of these opportunities by identifying and tracking credits and incentives that apply to their industry and specific business circumstances. The solution covers 24 credit types for 80 countries around the world, so whether you're doing business in Brazil or setting up new operations in India, you can be confident that you aren't missing any potential opportunities.

Key Features and Benefits

- Access hard-to-find credits and incentives information for global jurisdictions – aggregated in one place in English. Reduce the time and cost inefficiencies of navigating multiple government websites and language barriers.
- Compare and evaluate credits and incentives opportunities across multiple jurisdictions with the “summary” table view. Filter by country or tax credits to streamline your search and easily evaluate investment options from a unified, global perspective.
- Research and review a potential credit opportunity easily. Additional information, such as program descriptions, potential value, eligibility requirements, statute references, and statute links enables further in-depth analysis for select jurisdictions.
